Day One

Adventure along Highway 1 begins with a stop at the Seymour Marine Discovery Center at Long Marine Lab. The Marine Lab overlooks the bay and features aquariums and marine exhibits illustrating the work of resident scientists. Outside the lab rests Ms. Blue, one of the world's largest blue whale skeletons and the remains of the La Feliz shipwreck, which crashed ashore more than 90 years ago. Day Three Traveling south on Highway 1 you'll find Capitola, California's oldest seaside resort town. Founded over 140 years ago, Capitola still radiates the charisma of a vintage beachside town, where galleries and boutiques decorate the quaint streets of Capitola

Village. Check out Gayle's Bakery and Rosticceria for a tasty brunch, then stop by the Capitola Historical Museum and pick up a map for a self-guided walking tour. On Wednesday evenings during summer, free twilight concerts are hosted at Esplanade Park's outdoor bandstand. Next, the town of Soquel lies just inland from Capitola where antique shops line the streets of Soquel Village. The hills up above the town are draped with vineyards, and a starting point for wine tasting is Bargetto Winery, located near the heart of town. Scenic two-lane roads wind up through the mountains to more wineries north of town. OVERNIGHT IN SANTA CRUZ COUNTY.

Day Four

Head to Aptos, home of The Forest of Nisene Marks State Park, with over 30 miles of trails made for hiking, jogging and biking. Nearby, on the beach side of Highway 1, pet-friendly Seaclyff State Beach is the perfect spot for walkers, runners or dog lovers.

Continuing on Highway 1 south, stop at a roadside fruit and veggie stand for local produce in Watsonville. On Fridays, at the farmers market, you'll find delicious local food, flowers and fun, all centrally located near the Watsonville Plaza.
