Keeping Meetings Safe with Four Points Santa Cruz – Scotts Valley

- Tables spaced apart (per local guidelines) and more single-chair tables for solo business travelers, or more 4-tops if business is leisure-centric.
- Seating at communal tables reduced to promote social distancing.
- Reduced bar stools to accommodate 6 feet of separation between parties.
- Tables, chairs, planters, used as barriers to direct guest flow to F&B staging areas.
- Utilize outdoor seating as much as possible such as our courtyard and balconies.
- Utilize meeting rooms or other spaces to accommodate overflow seating setups that follow service and distancing guidelines
- Well-ventilated indoor meeting rooms also offer access to balconies or courtyard for natural airflow.
- Signage displayed throughout the hotel to encourage social distancing and required face coverings for public indoor areas.
- Hand sanitation stations set up in meeting space.
